India Seems Helpless in China War

By HENRY S. BRADSHAW

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The government called on India's millions for sacrifices as fears grew today that advancing Chinese Communist forces would spill over the northeast Himalayan frontier onto the densely populated plains below in a full-fledged invasion.

Prime Minister Nehru said he was considering compulsory military training, and Indian women were asked to give up gold ornaments so the government can buy weapons abroad.

Indian troops were being rushed from the west Pakistan border to bolster defenses on the plains of Assam at the foot of the Himalayan mountains in the northeast.

India has kept a sizable part of its army facing Pakistan. Informed sources said the government hoped the United States, a military ally of Pakistan, would try to head off any attempt by Pakistan to take advantage of the emergency to seize the Indian-held part of the bitterly disputed Kashmir state.

The Indian air force requisitioned some civilian airliners to speed troops to northeast India. The government also was requisitioned some civilian airliners to speed troops to northeast India.

Although no figures have been released, casualties are known to be heavy. The Chinese are said to be taking no prisoners.

The Chinese appeared to be driving at least for control of the entire 51,000 square miles of the Himalayan borderlands that they have been disputing with India for five years.

Before the offensive began a week ago, the Chinese already controlled 12,000 square miles in the Himalayan borderlands.

Ike Murry Against Act No. 199

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Ike Murry, a Little Rock attorney who represents a group of independent automobile dealers, released Thursday an analysis saying Act 199 of 1961 is "discriminatory" and "tends to create a monopoly."

The act, which would create a state Motor Vehicle Commission, has been referred to voters in the Nov. general election.

Murry said the act would raise the price on cars and trucks. He charged in the analysis that the six-man commission to be created by the act would have the power to "say when and where a citizen of Arkansas may go into the business of selling automobiles and trucks."

The act, he charged, would require dealers to own or rent a repair shop or enter an agreement with a shop. This, he said, would in his opinion automatically force many used car dealers out of business.

The act would require those engaged in the manufacture, distribution or sale of cars to pay license fees. Murry said this additional cost to dealers would be passed on to the buyer.

Murry said the act would place the automobile business under the supervision of a politically appointed state agency.

Titan Missile Shot Successful

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A Titan 2 missile was launched on a successful 5,000-mile flight today, its fifth success in seven test firings.

All objectives were met on the 30-minute flight, the Air Force announced. Titan 2 is being developed as this nation's most powerful military rocket and as the booster for the Gemini and Dyna-Soar manned spacecraft.

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—The Air Force launched a satellite using a Thor-Agena D booster combination from this missile base today.

No other details on the launching were released.

Weather

Total 1962 precipitation through September, 38.13 inches; during the same period a year ago 45.44 inches.

Clear to partly cloudy and slightly warmer today. Increasing cloudiness tonight with a chance of showers in the south portion.

SAFETY FACTOR—Theresa Graham, Columbia, Mo., displays warning flags designed to fly over slow-moving farm machinery on highways. A state highway safety officer said he did not recall ever investigating an accident involving farm equipment flying a red flag such as one at left. Red and white striped flag, right, is designed to stand out vividly against a red-tinted sky at sunset.

Says Russia Controls Missiles

By D. L. BAILEY

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., said today, evidenced compiled from aerial photographs over Cuba makes it clear that missiles on the island are controlled by Russians, not Cubans.

The senator made the remark in response to a question during a visit to Little Rock University.

He said the photographs show Russian tent cities, and added: "The Cubans probably wouldn't know how to operate the missiles anyway."

Fulbright said Russia would not give Cuba the power to involve the Soviet Union in all-out war.

There are two methods by which the missiles can be removed, Fulbright said — negotiation and invasion.

He said he was not predicting an invasion and he had no information indicating one.

He said if negotiations do not develop a settlement of the issue and that if present quarantine plans are carried out, it appears that the only way to remove the missiles is by force.

Fulbright said he had nothing to do with the withdrawing of air support to the men who invaded Cuba in the ill-fated Bay of Pigs invasion.

The senator said his Republican opponent, Dr. Kenneth Jones of Little Rock, had circulated reports that he had caused air support to be lifted.

"This is absolutely false," Fulbright said. He said before the invasion he advised President Kennedy against the action and said the U.S. would be responsible for the new government if the invasion had been successful.

Living Cost in Sizeable Increase

WASHINGTON (AP)—The cost of living climbed six-tenths of one percent in September, the largest increase in more than four years.

The increase was due primarily to a jump in meat prices following a withholding action by farmers in midwestern areas who refused to send meat animals to market.

The Labor Department's consumer price index had held steady during August at the record level set in July. But the September index rose to 10.1 percent of the 1957-59 average.

Ewan Clague, commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, said the major part of the rise was due to temporary or seasonal factors.

He cited the farmers' withholding of livestock from market and seasonal increases in the prices of eggs and clothing.

Clague said the meat situation had changed by mid-October, with wholesale prices dropping to about their August level and retail prices being reduced by about half the September increase.

Clague said it was too early to tell whether the Cuban crisis will have any effect upon the cost of living. However, he added, there is no reason why it should, because there are no shortages in the United States. Instead, he said, there is oversupply in almost all areas.

Little Too Old

HARRISBURG, Ark. (AP)—John E. McBride of Enola tried to enlist in the Army at Harrisburg because of the Cuban crisis, but was turned down. McBride is 70.

A Few Facts About State Candidates

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Here are capsule profiles of the major candidates in the Nov. general election

GOVERNOR

Democrat: Orval E. Faubus, 52, is seeking a fifth term as the state's chief executive. He upset Gov. Francis Cherry in the 1954 Democratic primary in a campaign based principally on welfare and property assignment issues. A native of Madison County, Faubus had brief state government experience as a governor's aide, highway commissioner and highway director before seeking the top office. He became an international figure in 1957 when he used National Guard troops to block integration at Little Rock Central High, touching off the lengthy Little Rock integration crisis.

Republican: Willis Ricketts, 37, is a Fayetteville pharmacist seeking his first political office. A former Democrat, he broke with the party over national party principles. He served as president of the state Junior Chamber of Commerce in 1960-61. His campaign has been based largely on the Republican premise of a need for a two-party system in Arkansas.

SENATE

Democrat Sen. J. William Fulbright, 58, of Fayetteville is seeking a fourth six-year term. Fulbright got into politics after he was removed as president of the University of Arkansas in a political move. He was elected to the House in 1942 and won a rough 1944 Senate race against a field which included the governor who had dismissed him. He is chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and close to the Kennedy administration. His first serious opponent since 1944 was Winston Chandler in this summer's Democratic primary. Fulbright won two to one.

Republican: Dr. Kenneth Jones, 43, of Little Rock is an orthopedic surgeon with no political experience but with a political background. He is the son of Circuit Judge Gus Jones of El Dorado, a Democrat. Jones has run as a conservative, attacking Fulbright as a liberal and taking the Kennedy administration to task at every turn.

THIRD CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

Democrat J. W. Trimble, 8, is a long-time public servant. He was a prosecuting attorney and circuit judge before he ran for Congress in 1944, seeking the seat vacated by Rep. J. William Fulbright who ran for the Senate. He has had several opponents in his 18 years in Washington but has not felt it necessary to campaign in recent years. This year, he delayed the start of his campaign until just three weeks before the election.

Special Vote Date Is Set

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus has signed a proclamation setting Dec. 11 as the date for a special election to name a state senator in the 25th District.

The proclamation sets midnight Saturday as the deadline for qualifying as a candidate in the election.

The vacancy was created by the death of Sen. Charles F. Smith, who drowned last summer. His successor will complete the term and be eligible for re-election.

Officials Wait But Russia Sets Up Missiles

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials waited with mounting impatience and concern today for Russia to make some move toward halting work on nuclear missile installations in Cuba.

This is the war-or-peace issue at the heart of the Cuban crisis as it is seen in Washington.

The U.S. government is trying to make clear to Russia and the world that unless this issue is resolved, "Further action will be justified"—as President Kennedy said in his speech Monday night announcing the arms blockade order.

The State Department Friday reaffirmed Kennedy's warning of further action and the White House followed up with a statement saying: "There is no evidence to date indicating that there is any intention to dismantle or discontinue work on these missile sites."

"On the contrary the Soviets are rapidly continuing their construction of missile support and launch facilities and serious attempts are under way to camouflage their efforts."

Tension focusing on the blockade abated Friday night. U. Thant, acting secretary-general of the United Nations, disclosed that Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev had agreed to avoid at least for a while a showdown between the U.S. Navy and Cuba-bound Russian ships.

The agreement was reached in an exchange of messages.

However, Khrushchev's message did not deal with the base problem. He simply announced he had ordered Soviet vessels temporarily to stay away from the interception zone established by the U.S. Navy blockade force.

Kennedy, in telling Thant he would do everything possible to avoid a direct U.S.-Soviet confrontation on the blockade front, took occasion also to emphasize the missile base issue.

"I must point out to you," he told Thant, "that present work on these systems is still continuing." Early Friday, the 7,268-ton freighter Maruca, flying the Lebanese flag under charter to the Soviet government, was halted and boarded by a U.S. Navy party and then allowed to proceed to Continued on Page Four

Shoes Not Booze, Says Attorney

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—It was shoes, not booze, that caused former Olympic swimmer star Eleanor Holm to sway after her car rammed another from the rear on Sept. 19, her attorney said.

What's more, said the attorney for the 49-year-old former wife of showman Billy Rose in Traffic Court on Thursday, she was cold sober.

Officer L.A. Casale testified that the famous woman swimmer flunked her finger-to-nose test. Miss Holm countered that she has "What you call a lazy eye. I can't get a driver's license without my glasses."

Casale also testified that she walked with a sway. That's when the defense attorney brought up the matter of Miss Holm's shoes. He produced the open-heeled walkers.

Drunkometer operator D. L. Prentz conceded that walking backward in thongs might be difficult but he said, "I wouldn't know. I never tried."

Miss Holm, who lives at Miami Beach, admitted having a couple of weak scotch and sodas four hours before her car struck one driven by Leo Zeltner, 69, on the rain-slicked road, but she said she ate a steak dinner after having the drinks.

Judge Thomas G. O'Connell ruled that Miss Holm was innocent of drunken driving but fined her $45 for careless driving.

Scores Big on Rescue Test

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Wing of the Civil Air Patrol has scored 98.5 percent on a search and rescue test conducted by the U. S. Air Force.

Col. J. A. Wellon said the score was the highest in U. S. history on such tests.

Springdale Plant Guttured by Fire

SPRINGDALE, Ark. (AP)—Damage of $25,000 to $30,000 was estimated today from a fire which destroyed the Whillock Manufacturing Co., furniture factory at nearby Lowell Wednesday night. Fire units from Springdale, Fayetteville, Rogers and Bentonville helped fight the flames.

Many of the firemen were attending a firefighters' school at Fayetteville when the alarm was turned in.

Lowell is four miles north of Springdale, 14 miles north of Fayetteville.

Quarantine Needs Other Backing

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., told a hearing today that measures in addition to the arms quarantine "are still urgently required to isolate Cuba and to encourage its ultimate collapse."

Keating, opening a Senate Internal Security subcommittee hearings, said all shipping, not just the shipment of offensive weapons, contribute to Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro's strength and his hold on the Cuban people.

"We must not neglect our long-term strategy for bringing Castro down and weakening communism throughout the world, in dealing with the immediate threat to the United States," Keating said.

The Rochester Republican said the Soviet bloc had relied heavily on procurement from the West for its growth as a world power.

He said chemicals, plastics, electronic equipment and machine tools had gone from the West to Communist bloc countries "at an inexplicable rate."

"It is ridiculous," he said, "to permit a continuation of the existing practices of having one ship carry goods to Cuba on a westward journey, and United States foreign aid material on the homeward trip."

George T. Piercy, chairman of a subcommittee of the National Petroleum Council, told the hearing that "without a doubt, Soviet oil is the most important element in the Soviet politico-economic offensive in the free world."

Millwood Allotment $9.5 Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—The public works appropriations bill signed Thursday by President Kennedy contains nearly $93 million for Arkansas projects.

The amount is about $2 million more than was requested in the administration budget.

Sen. John L. McClellan was instrumental in getting the Senate to add $91,500 to the Arkansas amount approved by the House.

Senate additions included $300,000 for lock and dam construction near the mouth of the Arkansas river; $15,000 for Ouachita River navigation construction; $350,000 for Gilham Reservoir construction; $30,000 for Dierks Reservoir planning; $60,000 for Big Lake planning; $27,000 for Lee Creek planning; $12,000 for East End Levee District (Little Rock) planning; and $17,500 for drainage district 17 (Mississippi County) planning.

Other Arkansas figures in the bill were Arkansas River locks and dams: $2 million for planning; Ouachita River navigation, $235,000 for planning; Gilham Reservoir, $99,000 for planning; Arkansas River, $18 million for bank stabilization; Beaver Reservoir $14 million for construction.

Bull Shoals Reservoir $2 million for construction; Dardanelle lock and dam, $1 million for construction; De Queen Reservoir $50,000 for planning; Garland City flood construction $150,000 for construction.

Greer's Ferry Reservoir, $4.8 million for construction; Millwood Reservoir, $9.5 million for construction; Ozark Lock and Dam $300,000 for planning; Red River levee, $300,000 for construction.

Tensas Basin, $1,740,000 for construction; St. Francis Basin, $3.9 million for construction; Lower get the less likely you are to realize.

PIGEONHOLED HUMMINGBIRDS—Robert C. Lasiewski, University of Michigan researcher, uses a syringe to feed a haul of hummingbirds he brought back from California. Wrapped in flannel "flight jackets," the usually furiously active birds relax in the "pigeonholes" of their specially designed carrying case. It was necessary to feed them once an hour to keep them from starving during the 12-hour flight. Lasiewski is studying the physiology of the birds, world's smallest warm-blooded animals, who burn up energy at a rate equal to 10 times that of a running man.

Wishes, Like Empty Talk, Never Solves a Problem — Instead, Try a Little Prayer

By MARY ANITA LASETER

As long as there have been stories written for the entertainment of readers, be they young or old, wishes have played an important part of the plot. Wishes are both human and fanciful, and everyone has them in some form or other. Ambition. Dreams. Hope.

Don't give a "that's-for-the-birds" shrug of the shoulders. Think a minute and you'll probably come up with some "jim-dandies. Would you like to know a few of mine? Go on! Just read on.

I've never had any desire to hit the jackpot at Monte Carlo or Las Vegas (and would probably pass out cold if such a thing happened), but I would like to know that someone somewhere had "hit the jackpot" in the medical field with a "cure-all" for human physical ills. There would be no danger of over-population, for, no doubt, mankind would need replenishing as the result of Crime of the soul, the battlefield, and the TV screen.

Some females may desire to be the first woman president of the U. S. Not me. However, just once I'd like to know an election was decided by one vote. Of course I'd be like a lot of others and would feel that the one vote was mine. Like a lot of others, too, I might be sorry later on with the outcome, but, at least, I'd know my vote definitely counted for something. That leads to another wish—that honest people could stay that way after election.

There isn't an ounce of desire on my part to win an Olympic title. (Which is a good thing, for a buttercup would stand a better chance of blooming in a snowstorm.) But, just once, I'd like to know of a modern-day World Series that did not go the full seven games. Why, I'd even be willing for the N. Y. Yankees to win if they could do it in four.

If you believe "clothes make the man," you are sure to place an importance on the wardrobe of women. Well, I'm woman enough to like pretty clothes, too, but my one wish along that line is for the powers in Paris to stop changing the length of things every time a season changes. Let them change color combinations, the cut of clothes; even waist-lines but not hem-lines. Hemming is one job I detest, and you can't get a detergent that will "do it for you."

You think wishing is for children? Maybe so. But how many times have you started a sentence with "I wish to goodness such-and-such would happen"? It probably isn't anything earth-shattering. Could be a desire for a loved one to share a pleasure with you or for an attempt that failed to become a success that is realized.

We are entitled to a few little silly wishes, and mine is to be able to dream in technicolor. All my dreams are in plain black and white, very interesting but colorless. If I'm to make the colored screen circuit, I'd better hurry, for I've been told the older you get the less likely you are to realize.

Wishes, like empty talk, won't solve any of the multitude of world problems or personal difficulties. Instead, let us pray for a solution. Hop, for a miracle. Work for an improvement.

Rockefeller Says Support President

JOPLIN, Mo. (AP)—Winthrop Rockefeller, Arkansas Republican state committee man, told a GOP rally Thursday night that he is unhappy with the "lack of leadership from Washington," but added: "he is our President and we must support him."

Rockefeller referred to the Cuban crisis, conceding its danger but saying: "We've got so much to be grateful for, we cannot become panicky today."

"I think the American public has begun to realize that the Kennedys are emotional, and that if Mr. Kennedy had acted a year ago, he would have been dealing with Mr. Castro, not Mr. Khrushchev," Rockefeller said.

Also appearing at the rally were Rep. Durward Hall, R-Mo., and Dewey Short, former Missouri congressman and assistant secretary of the Army in the Eisenhower administration.

Dr. Hall was returned to Joplin for the rally by Air Force transport plane after Thursday's briefing session for members of Congress.

He said the State Department and defense officials gave this inventory of military known to be in Cuba:

32 Intermediate range missile sites.

2 ground to air missile installations.

700-mile range patrol boats equipped with short-range missiles.

22 IL 28 jet bombers.

More than 100 MIG fighters.

Eight IRBM sites started with in the past 10 days and expected to be completed in six weeks.

Hall said these weapons could destroy one-third of the United States. He said the Cuban missile sites place Russia on America's doorstep for a total kill.

Representatives Plead Innocent

They were indicted Oct. 16 by a federal grand jury meeting in Baltimore. The jury also indicted William L. Robinson, 37, of Miami and J. Kenneth Edlin, 45, of Miami. They also pleaded innocent.

The two congressmen were charged with conspiring on behalf of Edlin, who was released earlier this month in Florida after serving five months of a six-month sentence for mail fraud in connection with operation of First Colony Savings & Loan Co., of Prince Frederick and Elton, Md.

Invasion or Bombing of Cuba Inevitable

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration appeared today to be preparing the ground for possible bombing or invasion of Cuba unless it starts dismantling its Russian-made missiles and their bases soon.

A White House statement indicated time may be short before the United States makes a decision on how far to go in neutralizing the missile threat.

It said Friday that aerial reconnaissance had shown that as late as Thursday Russian technicians were rushing work on launch bases for 1,200-mile mobile missiles and 2,500-mile intermediate range rockets.

"The activity at these sites apparently is directed at achieving a full operational capability as soon as possible," the White House said.

"There is no evidence to date indicating that there is any intention to dismantle or discontinue work on these missile sites. On the contrary, the Soviets are rapidly continuing their construction of missile support and launch facilities."

The Navy apparently had the blockade situation well in hand and President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev agreed separately to avoid an immediate showdown at sea while diplomatic efforts are made to find a peaceful solution.

During most of this week of crisis, attention has been centered on the blockade, which so far has worked in preventing further flow into Cuba of more deep-striking missiles, bombers and other offensive weapons.

But looming in the background has been the other prong of Kennedy's objective—to secure the eventual withdrawal of the offensive weapons already on the island.

Twice this week, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara directed newsmen's attention to Continued on Page Four

Castro Still Talking on Prisoners

By GEORGE ARFELD

HAVANA (AP)—The Fidel Castro government was reported today to be keeping open negotiations for the release of 1,113 captives of the Bay of Pigs invasion despite the present crisis. There was anxiety, however, that the U.S. arms blockade could affect the negotiations.

Officials of the rescue committee in Cuba sent a report to James B. Donovan, New York attorney making the ransom arrangements, that as far as they knew the negotiations have not been affected.

Alvaro Sanchez, one of the Cuban negotiators, sent Donovan a message saying "No final efforts must be spared to complete the negotiations."

Sanchez' report added that medicine, baby foods and medical equipment accepted by the Castro government in lieu of cash for freeing the prisoners are excluded from the U.S. arms blockade.

Berta Barreto de Los Haros, official coordinator of the rescue committee, said: "Although the blockade could affect the negotiations, the Cuban government is keeping these open."

She said tentative arrangements would be made to see if an airline, other than Pan American, World Airways would be willing to ferry out the prisoners and fly in the ransom supplies. She said she was sure that as soon as the ramped innocent today to charges of conspiracy and conflict of interest.

They were indicted Oct. 16 by a federal grand jury meeting in Baltimore. The jury also indicted William L. Robinson, 37, of Miami and J. Kenneth Edlin, 45, of Miami. They also pleaded innocent.

The two congressmen were charged with conspiring on behalf of Edlin, who was released earlier this month in Florida after serving five months of a six-month sentence for mail fraud in connection with operation of First Colony Savings & Loan Co., of Prince Frederick and Elton, Md.

JFK May Give Up Brazil Trip

White House has been in touch with the Brazilian government about President Kennedy's projected trip to Brazil Nov. 12, and the expectation is it will be canceled.

Press secretary Pierre Salinger, asked whether Kennedy has sent a letter to President Goulart of Brazil, replied that "I would rather not comment at this moment."

"We are reappraising the President's entire schedule," Salinger said.

Train Engine Runaway is Halted

SYRACUSE (AP) — Alarmed railroad dispatchers between here and Rochester cleared a mainline track early Friday, while a sheet-metal worker desperately sought to halt a runaway four-unit diesel engine traveling at 60 miles an hour.

James B. Gerace finally found the right control switch and halted the engine near Palmyra about 60 miles from the New York Central yards in the Syracuse suburb of DeWitt, where it started its wild journey.

Engineer Robert Cox, 60, of Syracuse, had fallen from the engine while moving it in the yard.

At the time, Gerace was repairing the second unit of the train. When he became aware of the predicament, Gerace made his way to the lead unit and began throwing switches until he found the right one.

A dispatcher at a Syracuse control point had sent out an alarm. Gerace, who lives in nearby Jamesville, returned to Syracuse by automobile. The engine was towed to the railroad yards in Rochester.

Cox who was injured in the fall, was taken to a hospital. He was reported in good condition.

Nehru Gets Power in Emergency

By HENRY S. BRADSHAW

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—India proclaimed an emergency Friday night, with Prime Minister Nehru assuming near-dictatorial powers in the fight against Chinese Communists driving across the Himalayan frontier.

India women were asked to give up gold ornaments so the government can buy weapons abroad with the proceeds.

President Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan gave the Nehru government extraordinary powers in this nation of 437 million persons—including the right to curb freedom of speech and the courts, and to take over complete rule in any of India's 15 states.

Nehru charged the Red Chinese with invading India—rather than just provoking border clashes—along 2,500 disputed miles of Himalayan frontier. But he stopped short of declaring it a war. The Red Chinese and Indians both claim various border areas.

The neutralist Indian leader declared in a speech to students that he did not want formally to declare war because of the possible consequences—indicating fear of bombing in rear areas.

Indian forces claimed they beat off two Chinese attacks in stiffening resistance along the flaming channel and acknowledged further retreats.

Fighting raged for the seventh day. The Communists were said to be taking no prisoners. The Indians have admitted suffering heavy casualties—without giving any figures—but claimed they were dealing costlier blows to the Communists.

A Defense Ministry spokesman said Red Chinese troops who captured Kibitoo near the Burma border had reached Walong in the Luiti River valley.

The Indians said the Chinese had driven 15 miles inside their territory on the northeastern border.

A government spokesman said two outposts in the center of the northeastern frontier with Tibet were abandoned, 32 and 50 miles east of Longju.

Snow was falling in parts of the northeast and bitter cold has set in.

The Indian spokesman reported no change in the situation 850 miles to the northwest in Ladakh, where the Communists appeared to have captured most of 12,000 square miles they claim belongs to China.

Nehru called the Indian Parliament into session Nov. 8. That is 11 days before it was due to convene.

Facts of Life Around Arkansas

By J. C. TILLMAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

A tale of shipping shoes by boat was recalled at a meeting of the Jackson County Historical Society the other day.

A river boat loaded with what was believed to be the first solid cargo of shoes ever to move up the White River left St. Louis, with the trip timed to end at Newport at the 1907 annual meeting of the Southern Deep Waterways Convention.

That was on May 17. The purpose of the convention was much that of the current White River group—to promote clearing of the channel and renewal of shipping.

Belief was then that shipping on the river would grow and grow and the sailing of the steamer "Liberty" was widely hailed.

Railroads took over the shipment of shoes, however, as well as other cargo, and a colorful era passed.

One Killed in Car-Train Wreck

BENTON, Ark. (AP) — A Benton man was killed and four other persons were seriously injured early today in a car-train collision in Benton.

Dead is E. A. Parks, 40, the driver of the car. Police identified the injured, all passengers in the car, as Jeanette Parks, 39; Gloria Suitor, 1; Earl Athridge, 33; and Hazel Athridge, 3, all of Benton.

They were in satisfactory condition in a Benton hospital.

Police said the Parks car, traveling into the Missouri-Pacific Railroad train.

Texas State Trooper J. L. Colm, a native of Batesville, was recently assigned a choice bit duty.

Colm drove a car carrying Lt. Col. John Glenn and family. The kids—and family—managed to get out of the car in time to see the famous astronaut.

The Hobby Club of the northeast Arkansas community of Maynard will hold a bake sale Saturday in a local pool hall—to raise funds for construction of a community building.

5 Indicted in Lewisville Vote Case

LEWISVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Five Lewisville area Negroes have been indicted by a special Lafayette County grand jury for alleged violations of the state primary election laws.

Sheriff W. H. Baker said Mrs. Heather Watson, Kelsey Green, Lee Thomas, Eddie Pennington and George Barrow have each posted $1,000 bond and been released.

Thomas, Green and Pennington were indicted on charges of causing illegal issuance of poll tax receipts and for alleged perjury. Barrow for illegal issuance of receipts and Mrs. Watson for forgery.

The jury recommended a law forbidding the issuing of a poll tax to any person who is delinquent in payment of property taxes, establishment of boundaries in precincts that have more than one voting boy, that the county clerk furnish a list of absentee voters to officials at each box to prevent persons from voting twice and that county officials discontinue the practice of furnishing poll tax request forms.

No evidence of irregular conduct on the part of election officials was found, the jury report said.

Communications System Installed

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A new warning and emergency communications system called "SigAlert" has been established in Little Rock.

Civil Defense Director William Price said the system has been set up with the aid of a Little Rock radio station and the police department.

The police department, he said, would broadcast directly to radio station KAJI, which has purchased the equipment. KAJI would in turn relay information to listeners.

Price said he hopes other stations will join KAJI in offering the service. The system would be used only on a local basis and should not be confused with the nationally conducted Conelrad, Price said.

Moore Has a Chance to Up Statistics

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Quarterback Billy Moore gets a chance to increase his Southwest Conference statistical leads when the University of Arkansas meets Hardin-Simmons University in a non-conference football game here Saturday night.

Moore, the Arkansas field general, paces the conference in total offense with 742 yards, in rushing with 325 yards on 70 carries, and in scoring with 42 points. He also is third in passing, having completed 35 of 51 throws for 417 yards. He has the best completion average.

The Razorbacks' only loss came last week to top-ranked Texas, 7-3. The Longhorns drove 85 yards in the last seven minutes to eclipse a field goal by Tommy McNelly that looked for a while like the clincher.

Arkansas still is ranked ninth nationally and they'll have to beat Hardin-Simmons might decisively to stay there.

The Cowboys broke a long losing streak last Saturday night with a 14-6 victory over Trinity University at Abilene, Tex.

The Cowboy victory was not only their first of the season. It was also their first after 27 fallen to Trinity they would have equalled the national mark for the greatest number of consecutive defeats suffered.

The loss to Texas was the first of the season for the Razorbacks who despite the setback are still ranked among the nation's top ten teams.

The remote prospect of hardin-Simmons duplicating last Saturday's victory grew even dimmer this week with the announcement that Cowboy quarterback Hollis Coleman will be unable to play Saturday night.

Coleman, the leading passer and total offense producer for the Cowboys, suffered a torn rib cartilage in the Trinity game.

Coleman or no Coleman, Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles made it clear this week to his ninth-ranked Razorbacks that they would take no chances of getting upset by Hardin-Simmons.

Broyles has been putting his squad through rugged drills and warned the Razorbacks "Hardin-Simmons has a tougher team than most people realize and has come a long way since its first game this season."

More Direct Action Is in Making

By J.M. ROBERTS
Associated Press Staff Writer

Washington is laying both the political and military groundwork for even more direct action against Soviet missile bases in Cuba.

The State Department has iterated the President's statement Monday that "further action will be justified" if offensive military preparations continue on the island, as they are continuing despite the Soviet backdown in the face of the munitions blockade.

Elimination of the bases is a parallel objective along with the stoppage of missile shipments, and has been formally demanded.

Already there is public speculation as to whether nuclear or conventional weapons will be used if the demand is not promptly met.

It is not likely that the demand will be permitted to lie on the table very long. To do so would be to negate a good part of the advantages which already accrue to the confrontation and discomfiture of the Soviet Union.

The United States would not want to "overkill" in Cuba, having regard for both the dangers of nuclear precedent and the welfare of the long-suffering Cuban people.

She would really like to capture the missiles, as well as their transportation and launching equipment, to learn just exactly how the somewhat primitive but nevertheless dangerous sites can be set up so quickly and so easily. Presumably, however, the missiles would be blown up and any secrets destroyed before that could happen.

Whatever force may be required, the United States will wish to use it in overwhelming sufficiency to avoid casualties.

The thought that atom bombs could save far more lives, both American and Japanese, than they would destroy was an important factor in first use of the weapons. That does not necessarily mean nuclear bombing in this case.

It is presumable that contingency plans which officials decline to discuss already have been made to meet a continued hard-nosed Communist posture regarding the bases and the weapons.

Jobs for 10,971

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The placement of 10,971 persons in non-agricultural jobs in September was announced Thursday by the state Employment Security Division. The ESD said this is two per cent less than the placement in the same month last year. There was a five per cent gain in employment of manufacturing workers and a 1 per cent drop in construction workers.

Richmond, Va. (AP) —

Roger Cooper of Brinkley, Ark., president of the Southern Association of Student Councils, admonished fellow students Thursday to "develop rational, pen minds" in dealing with problems of the future. Cooper gave the keynote speech at the association's 28th annual conference. He said "today's teenage adult is learning something his parents didn't learn well or didn't learn at all. We're learning to anticipate." Something must be done, he said, in the fields of population control, disease control and food distribution.

Becomes Candidate

WEST MEMPHIS, Ark. (AP)—W. K. Ingram, a West Memphis businessman and former Crittenden County judge, has announced as a candidate for the 25th District state Senate seat vacated by the death of Sen. Charles F. Smith last summer. Gov. Orval E. Faubus has tentatively set a special election for the post on Dec. 11. The district includes Crittenden, Cross and St. Francis counties.

Last of Eight Convicts Taken

The last three of eight convicts who fled Parchman State Prison Farm after slaying a trusty were captured Wednesday in the Mississippi River bottoms near the east end of the Helena Bridge.

Five of the prisoners were recaptured shortly after the break early Wednesday.

Prison officials said the eight were going on sick call when they killed Milton Dodd, 30, a trusty driver, and fled in the prison ambulance. They abandoned the ambulance and stole a car.

The car in turn was abandoned at a roadblock on the Helena Bridge. The three convicts—Lynn Williams, 33; Roy Clay, 22, and Edwin Berryman, 30, ran into a wooded area. Officers surrounded the area and forced them to surrender.

The casual elegance of Garbo and the 30's is evident in the new look for fall. Hair can be worn at any length, but all styles are head-hugging and softly smooth. The pure rendition of the Garbo coil (left), is a longish, casual hairdo. Gone are the teased crown and bouffant sides. For a medium-length hair (top right), the crown has just a suggestion of lift. This version swirls into large loops at the ear. Back falls softly. The short bob (bottom right), has virtually no lift at crown. The line is downward, with a suggestion of end curl.

DOROTHY DIX Marriage on The Rocks

By HELEN WRDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen After 18 years of happy marriage and four wonderful children, our home is on the brink of disaster. Recently some woman telephoned me to say she was going with my husband. When I confronted him with this, he denied it, then confessed.

The only reason he could give me was that he was getting old and wanted to enjoy life while he could. He says that I have been an ideal wife, better than anyone else's, and that if I want to keep on living with him I can, but that if I don't, take the kids and leave.

My heart aches so I can hardly breathe. I have been a faithful partner, never denied him any privileges whatsoever, always have been willing and agreeable to do everything he's wanted to do. We have been a Christian family all these years, taking our children to church regularly. We are respected people, and are looked upon by our friends as a well-matched couple.

How can he throw away the principles of life this way? How can a man look at his children and walk out of his home to do what he has done? Does he really love his wife and family if he does this sort of thing?

Should I continue being a wife under his conditions just to save my marriage? How can I rebuild what has been so shamefully destroyed? I feel that all the cleanliness and purity have gone out of something that should have been kept sacred. Please help me. — Disappointed Wife.

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and address her care of this newspaper. Helpful leaflets available. Write for "What Age for Dating?"

$475,000 Loan to Clinton

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Area Redevelopment Administration has approved a combined public facility loan and grant of $475,000 to Clinton, Ark. for a complete sewerage system and the improvement of its water supply system.

Announcement of the loan was made by Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark. and Rep. James Trimble, D-Ark.

The water supply system will serve the Clinton Poultry and Egg Co., which is expanding its operation.

The ARA said $191,000 of the money will be in the form of a loan at 3.5 per cent interest and $284,000 in the form of a grant.

Expansion of the plant will create 100 new jobs. The firm now has 100 full-time workers and about 200 part-time employees.

U.S. Purchases Arkansas Rice

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Department of Agriculture has purchased 10,455,552 pounds of enriched milled rice for distribution agencies, Sen. J. William Fulbright said Wednesday.

Fulbright said 6,640,665 pounds were purchased from Arkansas farms at prices ranging from $10.73 to $11.48 per hundredweight.

There is more than a glimmer of hope that you will succeed. Your husband, despite his suggestion that you can leave, admits you have been better than other wives. This, rather than his present defiant attitude, is the key to his true feelings.

Since you are plainly in a mood to forgive, I recommend that you also forget the infidelity, at least on the surface. Cease any discussion of the subject; that in itself will surprise, interest, and relieve your husband. Buy some new clothes, get a new hairdo, investigate some new recipes. Step up the amount of entertaining you do at home.

Whenever possible, inject a new note of cheerfulness into the environment. Don't necessarily agree to everything your husband wants you to do, because a show of independence here and there can be intriguing. But avoid large controversies, and, above all, re-creations about his misdeeds. The way to bring this lost sheep back into the fold is to make it uninteresting for him to stray.

Dear Helen: We are a group of girls 13 and 14 who think some of the teens who write you are trying to grow up before their time. We laugh when we read their letters. Sure, we wear lipstick, too, but only light shades of pink. As for powder, peroxide, and eyelash curlers, we leave them to people old enough to use them properly. We think we'll gain more respect from boys and everyone else by being like "big sister." —Sensible Teenagers

Dear Teenagers Your letter is like a warm breeze among the wintry blasts I've been getting from some other damsels in your age bracket. You are right when you smile at the futility of trying to grow up before one's time. A gradual, moderate approach to womanhood is the surest guarantee that it will prove to be the best time of your lives.

Fish Crop in Arkansas to Be the Best

By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Staff Writer

Experts believe Arkansas has the prospects for the largest agricultural crop in the world by the year 1970.

The newest crop is fish.

The United States Department of Agriculture formally recognized fish farming as an agricultural pursuit in a section of the food and agricultural bill Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., introduced and got passed in the last session of Congress.

President Kennedy signed the bill into law several weeks ago, making it possible for fish farmers to obtain Farmers Home Administration loans.

Dr. W. F. Carbine, regional director of the Bureau of Fisheries of Michigan, said in a speech at Little Rock May 29 and at Stuttgart last Sunday.

"The state of Arkansas alone has the potential to produce $100 million annually."

Two facts make Carbine's statement doubly astounding.

First, the United States imports 50 per cent of the fish consumed in this country. Second, the fish farming industry has existed in Arkansas only about 12 years.

Roy Prewitt of Lonoke, president of the American Fish Farmers Federation, is very fond of a statement written by Roger Babson some years ago. It said "enough animal protein could be grown in the lower Mississippi River wastelands with a fast growing, plankton breeding fish to feed the world."

Prewitt believes that may be true.

Prewitt had been appointed by Secretary of the Interior Udall to the American Fisheries Advisory Committee the first representative of the fresh water fishing areas.

He will attend a meeting of the committee in Kansas City Dec. 3-5 at which general fisheries matters will be discussed.

Fulbright announced the appointment at the dedication of a $500,000 fish research station at Stuttgart, designed to find new and better methods of fish production.

The problems include transportation and a lack of automation in the production of fish.

C. H. Hickling, a British scientist, said in his recent book, "Fish Culture," that Russia has 100,000 acres in research and fingerling growing ponds, or about 1,250,000 ponds.

In Russia, Hickling said, production is limited by climate and other factors to about 100 pounds an acre, but the Soviets are far ahead of the U.S. in automation related to fish farming.

Prewitt said the production in the United States, where the climate is more favorable, would amount to about 2,500 pounds per acre.

Fish farming actually is an outgrowth of minnow farming, which began about 1940 in Arkansas as a means of soil and water conservation.

Construction Projects in Nat'l Forests

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department released Friday a list of 87 construction projects in 83 national forests, including Ouachita and Ozarks in Arkansas, on which work will start soon on a $15 million accelerated public works program.

The projects are in national forests in counties suffering from substantial and continuous underemployment and unemployment.

The Ozark National Forest will get $150,000 for work requiring 8,200 man hours of work to complete. The Ouachita National Forest will get $100,000 for work requiring 6,200 man hours of work to complete.

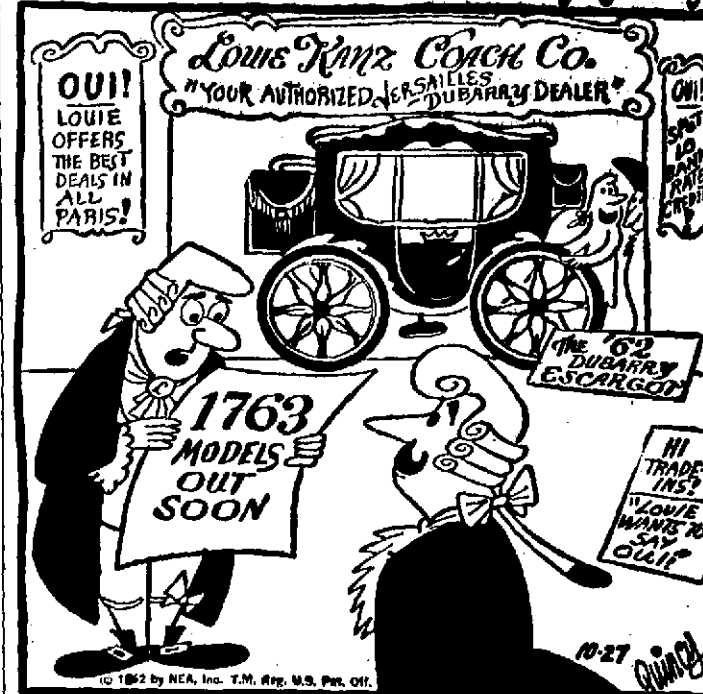

The projects include construction of camp and picnic grounds, tables and benches, fireplaces, water and sanitary facilities, and trails and roads.

The $15 million represents an initial allocation by President Kennedy to the Agriculture Department from a fund for an accelerated public works program.

By Clarence Budington Kelland THE STORY: Columbine enlists Barbara's aid in hiding the mysterious objects she found in luggage she got by mistake. Sam Jones, her lawyer, has called her regarding a "matter of importance."

XII She went upstairs, freshened herself and awaited his arrival. His rap sounded on the door and she called to enter. He opened the door and stood just inside, staring at the stranger who sat across the living room on the day.

"I am Mr. Jones," he said. "I was told I would find Miss Druggett here."

She stood up and he saw a girl, slender, modestly and tastefully dressed, with admirable ankles and violet eyes in a lovely face, and a nimbus of skillfully dressed hair.

"Perhaps," she said caustically, "you need spectacles."

He was incredulous. He stammered "It—it's not—"

"Do not be ridiculous!" she said sharply.

"But—how did you do it? It's witchcraft!"

"It is," she said tartly. "A $100 dress, $20 shoes, $5 stockings, a $1 lipstick and 10 dollars' worth of beauty parlor."

He ate without appetite, stealing incredulous glances across the table. Columbine had been studying his face when she could do so unobserved. His appearance, she thought, was substantial rather than ornamental. It was a face that, with the coming of a few more years and a grist of experiences, might become distinguished. At the moment, it was a young and baffled face.

"They finished the meal and Columbine indicated more comfortable chairs. 'Now,' she said when they were seated, 'what was so pressing?'"

"Miss Druggett," he began, "would you care to consider selling your existing interest in the Daphne?"

"Sabotage and 10 per centum," she replied.

"Is it a guessing game?"

"On the contrary, it is a logical conclusion. Item One unwarranted increase in costs. Two: sabotage of breakfasts. Three: a call from the handsome but oleaginous Mr. Quentin. Conclusions first, a disgusting effort to discourage me with this business. And, second, a desire to buy it as a bargain by Mr. Quentin. May I ask if you are allied with him or are on his side?"

"I may not be the smartest lawyer in the profession, but my ethics are A-One. Are you, Miss Druggett, as smart as what you just said would indicate?"

"For years," she said placidly, "I've specialized in juvenilescalewags. I but apply my experience to the adult. Your reply to Mr. Quentin on my behalf is as follows: 'Mr. Quentin, you have a neck. Go fall in the river up to it.'"

"At a certain time in each school year," Columbine said to Barbara Green, "it was the custom for Miss Cordwainer to entertain the parents of pupils at a formal reception. She used that occasion to impress the guests with her personality. Of which," Columbine said reminiscently, "she had an abundance."

"And so?" asked Barbara.

"I have not met our guests en masse or, for the matter of that, in singles or pairs. It might serve an excellent purpose if I followed Miss Cordwainer's example."

"And," said Barbara in her expressionless voice, "trotted out your personality. Invitations could read Special preview of the personality of Miss Columbine Pepper Druggett."

On Watling Island in the Bahamas, the landing of Columbus is commemorated in three different places. One marker stands on a bluff on the windward side of the island. The other two are a few miles apart on the leeward beach.

Keenney's broadcast statement Monday that "should these offensive military preparations continue, thus increasing the threat to the hemisphere, further action will be justified. I have directed the armed forces to prepare for any eventualities; and I trust that in the interest of both the Cuban people and the Soviet technicians at these sites, the hazards to all concerned of continuing this threat will be recognized."

And Friday State Department spokesman Lincoln White called newsmen's attention to the same portion of Kennedy's statement.

Behind a screen of almost wartime secrecy, the armed services have been preparing for eventualities, as the President ordered. The Air Force has been beefing up its fast jet fighter an fighter-bomber force in Florida.

The Navy has much of its powerful Atlantic fleet at sea—with carriers believed in relatively close striking range of Cuba.

If a strike comes, it appeared likely that jet planes from U.S. carriers and bases would lead the attack by hitting with bombs and guided missiles at a Cuban missile sites and air bases.

Because of unimpeded and constant aerial reconnaissance with the finest of cameras, the U.S. command knows just where every launcher for more than 30 ballistic missiles can be found—and smashed.

Hope Outplays Camden in All Departments

By Vince Foster

The Hope Bobcats surpassed all expectations by soundly whipping and upsetting the league-leading Camden Panthers 21-6 on Dad's Night at Hammonds Stadium last night. It was a great team effort on the Bobcats' part to prove to their coaches and their backers that they are the team everyone knew they could be.

This 4A victory accomplished many things: first, it broke a scoring slump the Cats had been in for three weeks; second, it knocked Camden out of first place; it gave the Bobcats a 3-2-1 district record for the year; and fourth it restored the confidence of the Bobcat boosters.

From the opening kickoff the Bobcats showed they meant business. On the third play from scrimmage Roy Wray intercepted a Camden aerial at the 50 and returned it to the 45. Seven plays later Hope linebacker Chuck Beggs covered a Panther tumble on their 32. Wray got an important first down on the Camden 18 and then Jerry Burnett carried to the two. FB Richard McDowell scored from the one. After a five yard penalty on Hope, Porterfield kicked the extra point from the 7 to put Hope out front 7-0 and give the Cats their first score in 12 quarters.

Camden came back and drove to the Hope seven but were held there by an unyielding Bobcat defense. Later Mayfield carried for 19 and Porterfield twisted for 12 to put the Cats up to mid-field. After an exchange of the possession, Dan Jones picked up Panther Beaver's fumble and returned it to the Camden 43. Hope QB Gary Mayfield hit Roy Wray 28 yards downfield to set up David Porterfield's 11 yard touchdown run. Porterfield added the PAT to put Hope out front 14-0 at the half.

After the kickoff Camden drove 48 yards to the Cats 20 where Jordan hit Meeks on a pass for the score. Jordan's backbreaking extra point was wide, giving Hope a 14-6 edge. Hope fired back on McDowell kickoff return to the Hope 46. Mayfield passed 24 yards downfield to James Marcum, and then Mayfield passed 31 yards to Earl Ray Murphy for the score. Again Porterfield's kick was good.

Mid-way in the final period Camden drove to the Hope 10, where the Bobcats held on downs. Maurice Sullivan sparked the Bobcats back up the field with runs of 5, 6, 22, 5, and 27 yards to carry the ball to Camden's ten. With five seconds left in the game, Jackie Russell was stopped two yards short of the goal.

Coaches Pierce and Beasley praised everyone and were well pleased with the Bobcat effort. Coach Gordon Beasley noted, "We finally broke the ice offensively. We knew our defense would do their job, but our offense started moving the ball again tonight."

Everyone really wanted to win this one; it was something like the first conference loss for the Panthers in 15 games.

Linebackers Dan Jones, Charles Beggs, and Richard McDowell were the Bobcat stalwarts on defense, while Maurice Sullivan lead the rushing with 82 yards. David Porterfield carried for 60, McDowell for 37, Barnett and Wray for 33 each, and Russell for 22. Very active was QB Gary Mayfield who ran for 27 yards and passed complete four times for 97 yards.

It was a wonderful night for the proud fathers and especially for Coaches John Pierce and Gordon Beasley who have pulled this team back together and lead them on the right road again. Next week the Bobcats will be going for their sixth win in a game with Logansport Louisiana. This will be a good chance for those fans who missed last night's game to see the Bobcats in their true form again.
